For management staff, the executive director conducts an annual performance review against strategic goals, confidential staff assessments and benchmarks salaries against regional nonprofit compensation surveys. The process is outlined in Sustainable Long Island's employee handbook. Sustainable Long Island has instituted a performance evaluation program to compensate and evaluate employees in a fair and equitable manner based upon demonstrated job performance, and in accordance with its equal employment opportunity policy. A performance review for each employee will be conducted by his/her supervisor after 90 days of employment and at least annually thereafter. The supervisor's assessment of strengths, accomplishments against strategic goals, areas that need improvement, and any revision needed in priorities or responsibilities, as well as a review of salary and proposed salary changes against regional nonprofit compensation surveys are included in a written record. The employee will review and sign the written version. It will then become part of the employee's personnel file. A self-evaluation by the employee and a peer evaluation are included as part of this evaluation process, and written versions are kept in the personnel file. An employee may have supervised access to his/her personnel file by requesting it from the executive director. A positive performance review does not guarantee a salary increase.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 5	Form 990, Part VI, Line 5 Description of Material Diversion of Assets	In February 2011, SLI discovered information leading to the determination that an employee had misappropriated funds for personal, non-business use. Sustainable immediately informed local authorities and terminated the employee. The employee has since been arrested, arraigned and given a confession to the police. An ongoing investigation has been conducted by the Nassau County District Attorney's Office. A rigorous review of existing records by current management and staff, as well as outside professionals indicates that the total cost of the defalcation, exclusive of associated legal and professional fees incurred during 2011 of approximately $53,000, was approximately $20,000. SLI has filed a claim with its insurance carrier and is seeking restitution from the former employee. However, the extent of any recovery of the loss is not determinable at this time.
